

Rallies Kick Off Homecoming

Real Indians to Celebrate OU's Holiday

OU Alums' plans for Homecoming activities took on a civic, as well as social, aspect this week. They supported an Indian chief's plea that the City of Omaha recognize the bi-centennial anniversary of the Omaha Indian Tribe's discovery of Omaha.

Last week, Chief Spotted Back (Walter Hamilton) reminded Omaha Centennial Director Alfred Stern that the Omaha Tribe had found the Omaha site 200 years ago, while on a hunting trip. He asked Stern to help the Indians celebrate the anniversary in conjunction with the city's Centennial in 1954.

Stern protested that the addition of a Bi-Centennial "would cost twice as much" money, but he agreed that the Indians should have a separate celebration commemorating their discovery.

The Board of Directors of the Alumni Association heard the Chief's plea and made a resolution Monday to back the Bi-Centennial celebration during OU's Homecoming celebration. Yesterday morning a contingent of alums, President Milo Bail, Stern, Mayor Glenn Cunningham and Alumni President Harold Poff met Chief Spotted Back and members of his tribe on North Thirtieth Street.

Dressed in full Indian regalia, the Omaha Indians were honored for finding the Omaha site 100 years before the city was chartered. After the ceremony, the group paraded to the County Courthouse where Dr. Bail was made a blood brother of the Omaha Indian Tribe.

Alums held posters declaring "Centennial, Schenectady! Omaha Indians have been here over 200 years," and "Help the Indians celebrate their Bi-Centennial—Attend Omaha U's Homecoming."

Chief Spotted Back and his wife, in Indian costume, will be guests in President Bail's box at tomorrow's game.

Hauser to Lecture At Institute Series

"World Population in Peace and War" will be the title of Dr. Philip M. Hauser's lecture at the fourth World Affairs Institute series Wednesday night. The lecture will start at 8:15 p. m. in the auditorium.

Professor Hauser has just returned after 15 months abroad. He spent most of his time in Southeast Asia as a statistical expert. He has travelled around the globe and highlights his lectures with color movies and slides which he has taken during his travels.

Hauser received his doctorate from the University of Chicago. He served as acting director of the Census Bureau for the 1950 census and as U. S. representative on the United Nations Population Commission. He is president of the Population Association of America, vice-president of the American Statistical Association, and vice-president of the American Sociological Society.

Students are admitted to the lectures on their activity tickets.

Bail to Lead Debate Convocation

Classes will be shortened Monday morning for the Oxford Debate Convocation. President Milo Bail will be chairman for the international debate meet that will concern the topic: "This House Views Television with Alarm."

Two OU coeds will team with two Oxford University students to comprise the team. Jean Bednar and John Peters will argue the negative side of the question while Sharon Erdkamp and Patrick Mayhew will take the affirmative.

An informal luncheon and dinner will be given Monday in honor of the Oxford guests. The Speech Department and the Office of Student Affairs are sponsoring the meals respectively.

The convocation, open to all students, will begin at 9:30 a. m. and will be held in the auditorium.

War Correspondent Tells Story Behind Spanish Dismissal

Wednesday night's World Affairs Institute speaker revealed the story behind his removal from Spain as a war correspondent during that country's civil war. Dr. Francis McMahon, University of Chicago professor, spoke to students during an informal discussion period Wednesday morning.

Dr. McMahon stated that he went from Spain to Mexico and then to South America. While in South America, he attempted to get at the truth, but was foiled by secret service agents in Buenos Aires, Argentina. He was also foiled while in Madrid, but was able to elude them. McMahon added that the situation in either city, however, is not one of a "nightmare."

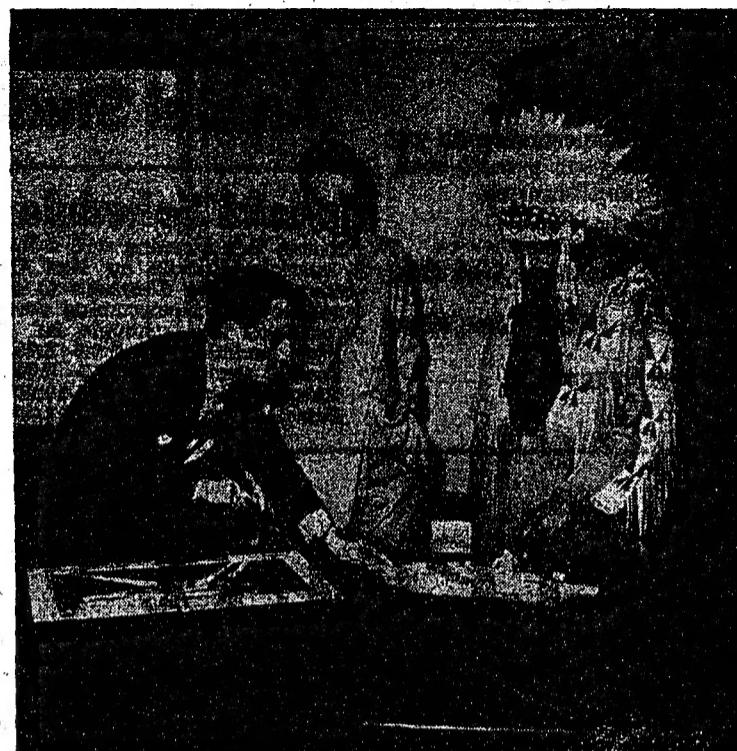

McMahon stated that he left Spain after six months because his credentials were suddenly withdrawn. He blamed an article written about the foreign minister linking him with some credentials, as the reason that his rights were taken away. However, the Spanish Government told him he could stay in the country forever, but could not write anything.

The United States government protested the action stating that he was not there to slander the regime. Nevertheless, McMahon left a week later.

He also stated that he is in favor of alliances with Franco, Peron and Tito in a "strictly business way." He added that "We've learned our lesson from Russia, so we would be foolish to make friends." He added that Peron hates the U. S.

He stated that education in Argentina and Spain is greatly lagging. He added that there are less teachers and schools than the United States had in the early 1930's.

As a newspaperman, McMahon advised journalists to study political sciences, philosophy and psychology in order to be prepared for intelligent interpretation writing.

Chief Spotted Back... confers with Centennial Director Stern and Alumni President Hardill Poff about Indians' Bi-Centennial.

Alumni Resolutions . . .

Monday night's meeting of the Alumni Association's Board of Directors resulted in the following resolution:

"Whereas: The Omaha Indian Tribe has furnished the inspiration for the Indian tradition at Omaha University, and . . .

Whereas: The Omaha Indians first arrived in the Omaha area on a hunting trip 200 years ago, and . . .

Whereas: Such an event should be brought to the attention of the populace, not only of Omaha, but of the surrounding territory, and . . .

Whereas: By mere coincidence, the date of the Indians' arrival comes at a time when the Omaha University Alumni Association is making ready to observe its 1953 Homecoming,

Now therefore be it resolved by the Board of Directors . . .

that the Association hereby supports the Omaha Indian Tribe in its modest request for an observance of a Bi-Centennial . . . and will aid and abet the Omaha Tribe in staging an appropriate ceremony commemorating the two-hundredth anniversary of the Indians' arrival in what is now known as the City of Omaha."

Columnist Tells Israeli Trials

River Causes Dispute

The project caused an international dispute between the Syrians and Israeli peoples, however, because the Jordan River is fed by one source which originates in Syria.

The question was brought before the United Nations and the mediator concluded that the project should be stopped. However, Mrs. Bar-David said, the very existence of the Jewish nation is dependent upon the Jordan, and the people will not tolerate such action which has progressed steadily the past few years.

Brought to Omaha by the Hadassah, Jewish women's club, she told of the meager food supply keeping the nation alive. Even now, each person is allowed a piece of meat a week about the size of a thumb.

Diet Meager

The authoress contributes her robust condition to the fact that

Israeli people eat an enormous amount of bread products to make up for the lack of protein in their diet.

Mrs. Bar-David told of the efforts of the faithful Jewish people who accommodated 500,000 homeless persons who fled Arab and Communist-ruled nations. This great number of refugees doubled the nation's population. The homeless were kept in canvas tents for many months until additional accommodations could be built.

"Israel is a frontier nation. We are very similar to the early American settlers. Instead of Indians raiding our borders, we are raided by Syrian and Arab troops," she commented.

Two Nations Prolong Freedom

Mrs. Bar-David said the peace-loving Democratic nations have only powerful Turkey and faithful Israel to prolong the cause for a free people in the Middle East.

When asked if she felt that the aggressive attitude of the Arabs could be attributed to their fear of being overrun by Israel's advancements, the authoress explained that there are not enough Hebrews in the world who would come to live in the country to make the excuse plausible. She added that the country still has the southern Naguib area of the country which could be developed if the situation arose.

"What the Israeli people need to develop most is the outstanding faith and confidence which the United States citizens have in their government and their country," she concluded.

Editorials . . .

In Days To Come—

Now that the fervor of campaigning and the ensuing election has calmed down, it is time to appeal to the few students who will lead the student body during the coming months.

It is time to ask the five new Council members to remember that they represent many students whom they may never have seen or may never know. It is up to them to represent every student as wisely and prudently as possible.

It is also time to remind the remainder of the Council to renew the spirit of ambition and integrity which it vowed when placed in office by OU students last spring.

The time has come, also, when the new class officers should promise themselves to do everything in their power to give complete service to the class which entrusted its activities with them.

But, more important, now is the time to ask EVERY member of the student body to help fulfill the duties of their elected leaders. For without the aid and support of the students, these representatives and officers will be forced to struggle along as best they can in their activities.

It is a two-fold appeal . . . affecting the student body as well as its leaders.

To Have and to Use

The air is alive with talk of Americanism, democracy and freedom. Does this mean anything to you? As a college student do you believe in freedom of press, speech and religion? You probably answer in the affirmative.

Yes, freedom of the press is available at OU. The staff of the Gateway, within reason, can criticize or boost, praise or condemn. But the editorial page is the only place where, according to journalistic rules, the opinions of the staff and the students can be recorded in the paper. Elsewhere stories must adhere to relating the facts.

Only through editorials can problems be brought to light, issues discussed and student opinion reflected.

Nevertheless, a small percentage of college students read editorials. Only a small percent realize that this is one page of the paper where policies may be discussed and that therein lies the freedom of the press.

The privilege granted to every American by the Bill of Rights in the American Constitution is yours. Take advantage of the rights given to you and cherish them.

Lost, One Sign

Lost, strayed or stolen—one sign, last seen in the vicinity of OU's parking lot, Wednesday night.

The "Sorry—Full" sign, which is used at the entrance to the parking lot was stolen.

Jack Adwers, building superintendent, said, "If anyone needed the sign so badly and was too cheap to buy one, I hope he gets all the benefit he can from it. It would be about as useful as a Billy goat," he commented.

Dr. Ralph Wardle, head of the English department, will speak at the third faculty coffee hour Nov. 12.

Date Traits

It's natural, it's nice, but it's hard on the nerves—wondering what traits put you in demand as a date. To clinch the matter, the November issue of Pageant magazine presents the results of some carefully documented polls, taken in recent months at several colleges and universities. Results are tabulated as follows:

1. What girls want in a boy.
2. What boys want in a girl.

In both cases, top date-traits are:

1. Be smooth in manners, appearance.
2. Know how to dance well.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"Safari as I'm concerned" said Sheedy's gal, "your hair looks like something the cat dragged in. Perhaps you better spring for some Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's favorite hair tonic. Keeps hair combed without greasiness. Removes loose, ugly dandruff. Relieves annoying dryness. Contains Lanolin. Non-alcoholic." So

Sheedy roared down to his druggist for Wildroot Cream-Oil, and now he's feline mighty fine. All the girls paws and stare when he passes. So you better leopard on the bandwagon and try Wildroot Cream-Oil right meow. Scratch up 29¢ for a bottle or handy tube at any toilet goods counter. And ask your barber for some Wildroot Cream-Oil on your hair. Then you'll be the cat's whiskers!

Indians Trounce Siwash; Home Finale Tomorrow

By Bob Peck

Seniors will be in the football spotlight tomorrow as the University of Omaha grididers take to the field in the annual Homecoming Day game.

Northern Illinois will furnish the opposition in the Saturday afternoon tilt which will climax the week end of festivities. Game time is 2 p.m.

Coach Lloyd Cardwell will play as many seniors as possible tomorrow since it is their last chance to perform before the home crowd. Only one more game remains on the OU schedule after tomorrow, that being the Migration Day game against Doane.

Two records will be carried onto the field of play tomorrow, and one is sure to be broken. The Omaha Indians have not been able to trip the Huskies from DeKalb, Ill., in their current series. Also, the Omahans have not dropped a Homecoming game in the post-war era. Only a tie game would preserve both marks.

The Indians are also working on a string of seven straight victories at home. Ironically enough, it was this same Northern Illinois team which last handed an OU team a setback on the West Dodge gridiron.

This was in the final game in the 1951 season when the Huskies came from apparent defeat to nip OU 27-26 in the waning minutes of the game.

The Indians will be at top physical strength in their homecoming effort. All hands came through last week's romp over Knox College in good shape.

Bill Engelhardt will be the main cog of the Omaha offense against the Huskies if past performances are an indication of things to come. Engelhardt's running and passing have sparked the Indian attack so ar this season and has gained him national recognition as an offensive star.

Emil Radik, Bill Steck and Dick Cotton are also scoring threats every time they handle the ball. Combined with Engelhardt, they make a powerful backfield quartet.

Coach Cardwell named Ziehe as the co-captain for tomorrow's game. Ziehe, a senior, is a three-year letterman.

Bill Engelhardt, Bill Steck and Tony Roth each scored two touchdowns as Omaha University broke its 1953 road jinx with a 48-13 rout over Knox College at Galesburg, Ill., last Saturday afternoon.

However it took four third-quarter scores to ice the contest for the Indians.

Leading by one touchdown at the half, 21-13, the Omahans took advantage of every break to overwhelm the Siwash in the third period avalanche.

Roth, subbing magnificently for injured Rudy Rotella, pirated a Knox pass and ran 23 yards with less than two minutes gone in the second half. He then notched his second score by grabbing an Engelhardt toss from the 23-yard line on the next set of downs.

Game captain Jerry Lawson almost duplicated Roth's feat by racing 46 yards with an errant Siwash pass only to be downed on the Knox three-yard stripe. Steck took over where Lawson left off and hurdled the remaining yardage for paydirt and the third touchdown of the quarter.

Emil Radik finished the day's scoring with a 17-yard burst and added the point while the remaining canto saw no scoring from either side.

As usual, Knox countered first early in the initial period and appeared capable of sustaining the OU losing string away from home. But a bad punt gave the Indians a break, and Engelhardt scampered nine yards while Roth booted the point to give Omaha the edge 7-6.

A standout all day, Engelhardt opened the second period scoring by romping 24 yards for the tally and later in the quarter hit Steck with a 48-yard aerial in the Siwash end zone.

Engelhardt was brilliant in the OU backfield as he figured prominently in six of the seven Omaha scores. Hampered by rain in the Emporia clash, Engelhardt made amends in the Knox game and was the big cog in the Red and Black attack.

Roth took scoring honors with his two touchdowns and five extra points in six attempts.

Indians Risk Home Record Against Illini

By Dave Langevin

If previous successes in recent Homecoming games mean anything, the Omaha football team will defeat the visiting Northern Illinois squad tomorrow afternoon. The Indians have been very successful in the past few years in winning their Homecoming games.

Last year, they ran over Doane College of Crete, 27-0. The year before that, they edged College of Emporia, 16-7. In 1950, with Joe Arenas enjoying his best season, Omaha upset Wayne University of Detroit, 32-13.

Omaha has played Northern Illinois in each of the last four years, and the Huskies have won every game; so a win for the Indians will break the four year jinx hovering over them.

The series started in 1949, with the Huskies dropping Omaha, 27-8. The next year, they dumped the Indians, 27-25, in a close nip-and-tuck battle. In 1951, Illinois beat the Red and Black, 27-26 in what was Omaha's last loss on the home field. Last year, Omaha dropped a 20-6 decision.

Fortunes should change this year, according to the two teams' respective records in games this season. Omaha has won four and lost two, while the Huskies are unvictorious in five games.

A win for Omaha will extend its home win streak to eight, it will snap the Northern Illinois jinx, and it will add another scalp to the Indians' list of Homecoming victims.

Cage Team Tryout

Head basketball coach Virgil Yelkin has announced that all basketball candidates should report for their initial practice next Monday in the Fieldhouse at 3:30 p.m.

All physical examinations must have been arranged by the candidates by that time.

The Omaha basketball team opens the season on Nov. 24, against the Alumni. The regular home season begins on Dec. 22 when the Indians meet Wayne State Teachers.

Pi Kaps Nip Sig Eps, 6-0

By Don Digilio

Pi Kappa Alpha handed Sigma Phi Epsilon its first loss in seven contests Tuesday afternoon with a stunning 6 to 0 victory over the defending intramural football champions.

A brilliant catch by end Mel Decker on a pass play that covered 80 yards enabled the Pikes to squeak by the highly touted Sig Ep eleven.

PKA then withstood all the Sig Ep's had to offer by posting a rugged forward wall, sparked by hard charging Marvin Nevins and Ken Olson.

The Sig Ep's had ten plays within the ten yard line, but they were unable to solve the rugged defense that the Pikes were displaying.

With 20 seconds left Sigma Phi Epsilon finally pushed to the three yard line. They had time for two plays, but the Pi Kapp defenders rose to the occasion to save victory.

Bob Moscley, Sig Ep's field general, was being rushed to get off any of his long passes that had beaten previous intramural opponents.

Both teams displayed a good defense, and neither of them displayed much of an offense. The only break in the game was the long pass that went for the distance.

In another intramural football game played Oct. 22, Lambda Chi upset Theta Chi 14 to 6. Bernie Lainson and Dick Shapland led Lambda Chi to victory.

Traditional Ceremony Will Reveal Princess

A tradition begun in 1935 will mark another anniversary tonight when OU squaws and braves will assemble at Peony Park Ballroom.

For the eighteenth consecutive year, the Indians' Homecoming Princess will appear before her tribe dressed in true Indian princess fashion. Minutes before the dance intermission, the winning candidate will be handed a beaded, white doeskin robe which she will wear at her presentation. This will be the first inkling the Princess has that she won the annual election last week.

Indian braves will carry the new Princess into the ballroom on a stretcher. Other braves will escort blanket-clad attendants the length of the hall at the same time. When the procession reaches the stage, Dr. Milo Ball will crown the Princess with an authentic tribal headband.

Original Buckskin

The original white buckskin dress came from the Omaha Indian Tribe in Macy, Nebr. In 1935, a group of OU students went to the Macy reservation to observe and bring back authentic Indian customs. The present doeskin robe was purchased four years ago after the original disappeared.

The four princess candidates are Jane Engelhardt, Joyce Erdkamp, Barbara Pugh and Sheila Schwid. All are seniors and represent the four social sororities.

Student Council President Don Chase will be master of ceremonies during the intermission program. Council member Pat Cosford is in charge of the dance. Decorations at the dance will be centered around the Indian theme.

Fa^ult Guests

Ray McKinley and his orchestra will play from 9 a. m. to 1 a. m. Mary Lu Martin will be featured vocalist for the orchestra.

Members of the faculty will be guests at the dance. Sponsors are Maj. and Mrs. John Burnett, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Roderic B. Crane and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Wardle.

Students will be admitted to the dance on their activity tickets. Single admissions can be purchased at the door for $1.20.

Pancakes to Add To Student Union

Lambda Chi's will be baking the pancakes for the All-Greek Old Fashioned Pancake Supper. The supper will be from 5 to 7 p. m. at the Benson Park pavilion next Saturday.

Proceeds will go to the Student Union Building Fund. Vee Mallory, ticket chairman, is distributing tickets to Greeks at their meetings. Tickets can also be purchased from any Lambda Chi for 50 cents.

Jim Phillips will decorate the pavilion in an old fashioned atmosphere. Dick Funk will have charge of the boys in the kitchen. Ron Jenkins is over-all chairman.

Faculty members who will sponsor the supper are Dr. Robert Harper, Lt. John Plantikow and C. Glenn Lewis.

TV Club Elects

President of the newly organized Radio-TV club for the coming year is Harold Winslow. Bob Erickson is the vice-president.

Dick Palmquist and Carolyn Chapman are serving as treasurer and secretary respectively. Darrell Githens is the sergeant-at-arms.

LATEST COLLEGE SURVEY SHOWS LUCKIES LEAD AGAIN!

Last year a survey of leading colleges throughout the country showed that smokers in those colleges preferred Luckies to any other cigarette.

This year another nation-wide survey — based on thousands of actual student interviews, and representative of all students in regular colleges — shows that Luckies lead again over all brands, regular or king size... and by a wide margin! The No. 1 reason: Luckies taste better.

Smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste, and the fact of the matter is Luckies taste better — for 2 reasons: L.S./M.F.T. — Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. And Luckies are made better to taste better. So, Be Happy-Go Lucky!

Here's one prediction I can make. Without my crystal ball — For taste appeal you're sure to find That Luckies top them all!
